We can now say that the path is op med to all, that the obstacles, are ramoved, and that expenses are reduced, also that Brazil will throw open its ports to all labourers desirons of amploying themselves in our agricultural and industrial establishments. But it behaves me to coint out and I do so with much pleasure and with a sense of indebteduess, that my distinguished friend Joes Pedro da Silva Netto contributed largely to bring about such a noted benefit. He proved himself in Hongkong to be the great proclaimer of the wealth of Brazil the character of its people, the conditions of its climate, and, above all, the employers prodigality towards such labourers as are well behaved, obsdient, and assiduous in their work. The English colony of Hourkong is the great nursery of good labourers. Brought up under the rule of strictest mornlity, deceit and fraud are unknown to the people of that Colony, and they observe faithfully their contracts because of their knowledge that this is the only means whereby they will be protected by the higher authorities of the place. When outrages were perpetrated on the Chinese of Hongkoog by Peru Cuba and other conutries, the Government and the British Parliament closed the ports of the Colony against all nations, sign. alling out as the only exception the French onlonies.
